Hispanic Heritage Month

We celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month (September 15 to October 15) to recognize the achievements and contributions of Hispanic American champions who have inspired others to achieve success. The observation began in 1968 as Hispanic Heritage Week under President Lyndon Johnson and was expanded by President Ronald Reagan in 1988 to cover a 30-day period.

FAST FACTS

- ◆ According to the U.S. Census Estimates, South Carolina's immigrant population grew faster than any other state in the U.S. between 2006 and 2007.
- ◆ The largest Latino communities in South Carolina (in order of size) are found in Greenville, Beaufort, Spartanburg, Richland, Charleston, and Horry Counties.
- ◆ In some schools in the State, Latino students comprise up to half of the student body.

No Blame, No Shame: A Conversation About Race

The South Carolina Human Affairs Commission and the SC Collaborative on Race and Reconciliation (SCCRR) are working together inviting the public to a panel discussion titled: No Blame, No Shame: A Conversation About Race led by Moderator Jennifer H. Gunter, PhD, Director of the SC Collaborative on Race and Reconciliation.

October 10, 2018
6:00 p.m.
in the auditorium of the Richland Library Main
Columbia, SC 29201

Join us for this candid panel discussion that we hope will spur positive dialogue about race in communities around the State and how we can better celebrate our differences.
